Unit-II

2. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow :

05

God by very nature has made man fallible and he continues committing mistakes and blunders throughout his life. Man in his passion, in his rage, loses all control over his reason and goes wild. But God has also bestowed man with qualities like commiseration, sympathy, fellow-feeling and forgiveness. Forgiveness is exalted as a godly virtue and the man who possesses it, is considered to have some element of godliness in him. Forgiveness ought to be a two-way task. If we expect it from others, we should also be prepared to grant it as all human beings are prone to commit mistakes. By forgiving those who trespass against us we are close to divinity and can ourselves hope for forgiveness.

Questions:-

- (i) Who has made man fallible?
- (ii) When man loses control over his reason?
- (iii) What are the qualities with which God has bestowed men?
- (iv) When we are close to divinity?
- (v) Give a suitable title to the passage.
